FOLLOWS: EPISODE 164 "BUTTERFLY PARTY"

CURRICULUM: D. Andre' Green was curious to know how monarch butterflies know when to fly back home from their winter homes. He discovered that monarchs can feel when it gets cold.

CURRICULUM GOALS: LS8d: Identify seasonal adaptations in physical characteristics or behaving of animals [The kids learn that monarch butterflies change their behavior with the season. They migrate to warmer places for the winter, where they rest (enter diapause).]

1. EXT FOREST -- EARLY AUTUMN DAY

It's Fall and the trees have changed color. We open with a gusty whirl of wind and leaves whooshing through the air in front of the colorful trees, then see it swirl past Señor Tapir and the kids. Holding his guitar, Señor Tapir sits on a tree stump facing the kids, who sit around his feet. As the cold breeze rushes past, Olive wraps her arms around herself and shivers.

1 OLIVE 1
Brr. It's getting cold! You can * really feel it. *

A monarch butterfly flutters over the kids' heads and lands on Señor Tapir's head.

2 SEÑOR TAPIR 2

Did you know that butterflies can also feel the cold? That's how they know when they should fly somewhere warmer. [pause] Hmm, I think a song is coming. I can feel it.

Señor Tapir starts to strum his guitar and sings. After a few words, we transition to a simpler style of animation that describes what he is singing.

(singing)
Meet Professor André Green. He's a * scientist, you see *

2. EXT FLOWER GARDEN -- DAY

We see Professor André Green (animal Lion). Green is standing next to a monarch butterfly that's perched on a flower. He's staring at it with excitement.

4 SEÑOR TAPIR 4
And butterflies fill him up with curiosity.

The butterfly flies up in the sky and heads away with purpose.

5 SEÑOR TAPIR (CONT'D) 5
Every fall, monarch butterflies
make a long flight,

Green hops into a vehicle (or flaps into the sky) to follow it. We see the landscape pass by.

6 SEÑOR TAPIR (CONT'D)
So they can escape winter's icy cold bite.

3. EXT CENTRAL CALIFORNIA MONARCH WINTERING SITE -- DAY

The butterfly reaches a Monterey Pine tree full of other monarchs. As Green hops out of his car and watches, the butterfly yawns and settles in happily for a "rest" (diapause).

7 SEÑOR TAPIR
They rest when they reach someplace
nice and warm,
Til it's time to go back to their summertime home.

Green looks very closely at the resting butterflies. He scratches his chin.

8 SEÑOR TAPIR (CONT'D)
But how do they know
How long they should stay?
Do they follow the birds?...

8 *

*

Green watches a flock of birds fly by, but the butterflies don't stir. He shakes his head.

9 SEÑOR TAPIR (CONT'D)
Are they counting the days?

9 *

Green squints and looks more closely at the butterflies. He shakes his head.

(CHORUS) When you ask a question
and follow it through,
You'll learn something amazing and
new!
So Professor André Green got an idea to try.
Maybe the TEMPERATURE tells them
when to fly.

Green whips out a thermometer. The thermometer could be color coded or have pictures to show seasonal changes. We see the mercury drop – and maybe a cold gust go by. The monarchs yawn and stir. They fly off. Green watches them go, jumping up and down in a eureka moment.

11 SEÑOR TAPIR
They feel the cold! That's how they know where to be.

Professor André Green, thanks for your curiosity!

and follow it through,
You'll learn something amazing and

The kids <SFX: CHEER> as Señor Tapir finishes his song. He stands up, and the butterfly flies away from his head.

12	SEÑOR TAPIR	12
	And now it's time for me to go home.
13	OLIVE	13
	Why, Señor Tapir? Are you cold?
14	SEÑOR TAPIR	14
	No, it's time for lunch! I can feel it.

Señor Tapir pats his stomach, which <SFX: GRUMBLES>. Everyone <SFX: LAUGHS>.
