Polish draft dated 15 Oct 2019

General notes:

- We will note references to brand names. Free speech laws allow you to make those references but internal considerations might dictate that you make them generic; we will not say "clear" or "not clear." Once we note them, you decide if you want to mention a brand name product or not. Every project has a different policy on using brand names in dialogue.
- On the other hand, if we can tell that your intention was for the product name to be fictional, we check to see if it is or not. We assess your intention and proceed with either "reference to the brand name xxx" or "we've checked and we find xxx."
- References to actual products, businesses, etc. may need consideration given contractual obligations. You might need to change them if you have a product placement agreement with a competitor.
- Derogatory references in dialogue may merit attention. We will flag these and production should consult with counsel on them.
- If no brand name or business name is noted (e.g. "bottle of mustard"/"ice cream shop"), we presume that you will advise us if you need fictional names to feature or contact information for obtaining permission to show actual product names, logos, etc.
- Permission is needed if you feature in artwork any business names, copyrighted items, brand names, identifiable artwork from another source, etc.
- We check sound-alike spellings (Daley, Dailey, Daly, etc.).

Setting: fictional "Animal Town"

1. The following cast names, dialogue references, and visual elements have been checked:

Pg#/Line#

1/5 Olive is holding an INSECT BOOK –
Please advise if you wish fictional title or author name to feature in artwork.

1/7 Did you know that ants have TWO STOMACHS? –
Our sources confirm this is accurate information.

2/9 And did you know that caterpillars have TWELVE EYES –
As above.

2/11 ladybugs hide their wings under their shells by FOLDING them –
As above.

5/41 Butterflies have a body, and a head with two... and four butterfly wings –
We find butterflies have "Three main body parts: head, thorax (chest or mid section) and abdomen (tail end) and four wings, two forewings and two hindwings."

6/52 Butterflies have six legs –
Our sources confirm this is accurate information.

7/61 They drink the nectar, that's the watery juice that flowers have inside –
As above.

12/ 98 Using the magnifying glass, they watch as the butterfly
UNROLLS something from its head and pokes that into the flower. [ref:

12/101 Yes, that straw is called a proboscis. It's a part of their mouth –
Our sources confirm this is accurate information.

13/107 bookworms aren't really worms, they're baby beetles –
We find "A bookworm is any small worm, in the larvae stage, who likes to live in, and eat, books. These creatures can be anything from beetles (Family Anobiidae and Family Dermestidae) to booklice (Yes, that's a thing), and moths (Family Lepidoptera). We can also name termites, silverfish, and firebrats in this category." "...but the term 'bookworm' usually refers to the larvae of one of two beetle species: the common furniture beetle and the death watch beetle."

2. Presume that licenses have been obtained for use of the following music, where applicable:

We find no references to music in this script.
