Wonders Why

Style Guide

Intro

ELINOR WONDERS WHY is a PBS KIDS animated series for preschoolers created by Jorge Cham and Daniel Whiteson. Each half-hour episode features two stories that aim to encourage children to follow their curiosity, ask questions when they don't understand and find answers using science inquiry skills. The main character Elinor, the most observant and curious bunny rabbit in Animal Town, will introduce kids ages 3-5 to science, nature and community through adventures with her friends Ari, a funny and imaginative bat, and Olive, a perceptive and warm elephant. As kids explore Animal Town, they will meet all kinds of interesting, funny, and quirky characters, each with something to teach us about respecting others, the importance of diversity, caring for the environment, and working together to solve problems.

In each episode, Elinor models the foundational practices of science inquiry and engineering design -- including her amazing powers of observation and willingness to ask questions and investigate. When she encounters something she doesn't understand, like why birds have feathers or how tiny ants build massive anthills, she just can't let it go until she figures it out. And in discovering the answers, Elinor often learns something about nature's ingenious inventions and how they can connect to ideas in our designed world, and what it takes to live in a community. ELINOR WONDERS WHY encourages children and parents to ask their own questions and experience the joy of discovery and understanding together.

Elinor Wonders Why

Style Guide

Welcome to our Elinor Wonders Why Style Guide where you can explore all the wonders of this very charming series.

This style guide is a reference point while setting up marketing and other materials across the board. It features many images and information that showcases the elements of style in our series. By following the details in this guide, this should allow us to present the brand in a consistent way and tone across all media."

Our very curious Elinor often says "we need MORE observations!" - So get curious, observe away and enjoy!

A- Characters:

A1-Elinor

Elinor is a precocious little bunny rabbit with seemingly boundless energy to explore and learn interesting things. She is silly and is not afraid to voice her opinion. Elinor likes to think that she has a super power: the power of observation. She often says out loud, "That is SO interesting!" whenever she notices an interesting phenomenon in nature. She likes to charge ahead and is very excited to try things out. When she sees something that she is interested in or wants to understand, she will not let go of it until she understands it. Sometimes, she is more focused on the mystery at hand than other, more practical things (like listening to her teacher). When she wants to dig into something, she will say "We need MORE observations."

But if her first ideas don't work she sometimes gets momentarily discouraged. Of course, her friends and family are always there to remind her to keep trying. She is very good at sharing her enthusiasm, and can get a crowd of kids (or her two best friends) interested in almost anything.

Elinor is very physical in the way that she explores the world and expresses herself. She gets very close to things that interest her, and has no hesitation about diving into bushes or scrambling (safely) up a tree. Her ears are very expressive, reflecting what she is feeling.

A2-Ari

Ari is one of Elinor's best friends. He is a kid bat with a fun sense of humor and a dramatic personality. He makes a lot of silly jokes (especially puns, often ending a scene or episode with a funny line), and isn't afraid to be the center of attention or to make himself look a bit silly.

Ari is imaginative but sometimes forgetful. He is often found snacking and saying things like, "That is so cool!" or "I meant to do that." Ari has functioning wings and can take off from the ground and fly for short distances. He uses a few flaps to make a big hop over an obstacle or get up into a tree.

A3-Olive

Olive is also one of Elinor's best friends. She has a warm and generous personality, and is very perceptive about others.

She loves books and is the best reader in the group. She also has an excellent memory, so she often has a useful tidbit of information to share with the group. Olive loves mysteries (she will often say "Sounds like a mystery!") and words (she will often say, "I like that word!"). She loves being the note-taker in the group, often laying the groundwork for the kids to make an interesting connection.

Olive doesn't run or jump around as much as Elinor and Ari, but she's as strong as an elephant (at least, a kid elephant). Olive's trunk is very flexible and useful. Since her hands don't have very dexterous fingers, she uses her trunk to make gestures, and to hold or manipulate things like a crayon or a fork. One of her favorite foods are bananas.

A4-Ms. Mole

Ms. Mole is the kids' teacher at school. She has been in the classroom longer than anyone can remember, so she's seen it all, but she hasn't lost her energy for teaching. She is quirky and well-versed in a child's sense of humor, with a fine-tuned sense of how to talk to access a child's world-view and speak to them in a way that will tickle and intrigue them.

Her sense of humor is on the goofy side; she likes to be silly and make jokes to put the children at ease and make them feel comfortable. She's independent, and likes to encourage kids to be the same. Her eyesight isn't very good (she's a mole), so she relies on her other senses a lot.
