Research for: Elinor Wonders Why "Make Music, Naturally!" Ep. 131
polish draft dated July 10, 2019

General notes:

- We will note references to brand names. Free speech laws allow you to make those references but internal considerations might dictate that you make them generic; we will not say "clear" or "not clear." Once we note them, you decide if you want to mention a brand name product or not. Every project has a different policy on using brand names in dialogue.
- On the other hand, if we can tell that your intention was for the product name to be fictional, we check to see if it is or not. We assess your intention and proceed with either "reference to the brand name xxx" or "we've checked and we find xxx."
- References to actual products, businesses, etc. may need consideration given contractual obligations. You might need to change them if you have a product placement agreement with a competitor.
- Derogatory references in dialogue may merit attention. We will flag these and production should consult with counsel on them.
- If no brand name or business name is noted (e.g. "bottle of mustard"/"ice cream shop"), we presume that you will advise us if you need fictional names to feature or contact information for obtaining permission to show actual product names, logos, etc.
- Permission is needed if you feature in artwork any business names, copyrighted items, brand names, identifiable artwork from another source, etc.
- We check sound-alike spellings (Daley, Dailey, Daly, etc.).

Setting: fictional "Animal Town"

1. The following cast names, dialogue references, and visual elements have been checked:

Pg#/Line#

1/2 It's called "I Hear With My Big Ear". -
Immediately calls to mind the popular children's game "I spy with my little eye".
We find nothing in internet searching nor any toy/game related trademark registration by this name. Consider clear for use.

eastern script inc.

1/5 Good point. Then, let's call it "I Hear with My Own Ear". -
As above.

2/13 I hear, with my own ear, something that sounds like...-
Calls to mind the wording from the popular children's game "I spy".

3/21 Buenos Dias, amigos. - Presume that your translation has come from a reliable source; please advise if you wish us to contact our translation service.

7/58 and pulls out her NATURE BOOK. -
Please advise if you wish fictional title or author name to feature in artwork.

15/123 Mz. Mole, why is that frog puffing up its throat like a balloon? ...
Good question. That balloon you see is called the vocal sac, and it makes the frog's singing louder. -
We find this to be accurate.

15/124 Mz. Mole brings up the pop-up book: a guide to the frog orchestra. -
We find no book by this title. Consider clear for use.

16/125 There are nearly 5,000 different kinds of frogs. And they all have their own unique sound, like different instruments. -
We find this to be accurate.

16/126 The eastern gray tree-frog. -
We find this to be an actual type of frog.

16/127 The Goliath bullfrog. -
As above.

16/130 And the loudest of them all, the tiny but mighty coqui frog.-
We find this to be accurate.

2. Presume that licenses have been obtained for use of the following music, where applicable:

Pg#/Line#

2/17 MUSICAL STRUM ON A GUITAR.
2/18 who is <STRUMMING> his guitar
3/23 It goes like this: * I knew a toucan from Peru * Who loved singing wherever he flew * He would never just speak * When he opened his beak * He would sing a whole song just for * you!
3/28 gives his guitar a <STRUM>
12/100 strumming his guitar
13/106 Elinor does a little <DRUMMING RIFF> tapping out rhythm
13/107 shakes his bean pods <RHYTHMIC RATTLE>.
13/110 Sr. Tapir: There is music all around us ... Hear the rattling sound I make When I give these beans a shake.
14/110 Olive: With my trunk I'll play ... And make music, naturally!
