

Beach Loglines

Turf War

AJ and RD are each working as lifeguards at neighboring towers on the beach, but it isn't long before a rivalry of who's side is safest begins to brew. The girls divide up their turf and go into overdrive saving people who don't need saving, PP's plush crocodile, Trixie faking as a mermaid, Bulk Biceps just being an awkward swimmer with too many floaties. Until... Someone right in the middle actually needs saving! (ex. one of bulk biceps water wings' pops and he can only swim in circles with his one floaty arm). The girls put their turf war aside to help.

Message in a bottle. The girls discover a message in a bottle and immediately begin romanticizing it as a treasure map. They follow it along the beach through a crazy maze only to realize it's an ad for a new taco stand. As far as PP is concerned, it's the ultimate treasure.

Baewatch

Zephyr Breeze decides to visit the girls at the beach, hoping to impress RD with his new surf board, until.... he actually has to go into the water and surf. Some of the girls hit the water and RD crushes it on the waves. Shockingly, it does not go as well for Zephyr, and the girls have to rescue the him.

Sand Castle / Sculpture Contest

While on the beach, the girls come across a kid struggling to build a sandcastle. They want to help, but get carried away by the challenge of building the most regal, indestructible and kick butt sandcastle on the shore, only to discover they built their sandy-Versailles during low tide...

Too Hot To Handle – PP longs to fulfill her beach day fantasy of cold shaved ice on the beach with her friends. But no matter how hard she tries, it seems near impossible to get the ice to her friends before it melts (ex obstacles: Seagulls, Children - she gives it away, Maze of people, ice cart that gets stuck in the hot sand). Her fantasy turns into a nightmare until finally her friends have to get together to make it happen (magical or not).

Lost and Found

Rarity has lost a custom one of a kind (because she made it) earring. The girls whip out their metal detectors but get distracted as they discover /fool's gold, sea glass, any kind of crazy exciting thing that's probably just junk. The girls go nuts looking for the earring, only for Rarity to realize that she had it the whole time. At least they have all this new loot.

Beach Animals

FS hears a bunch of newborn baby turtles crying for help, but can't find them. Using RD's pet turtle Tank as a blood hound, the girls track the turtles and discover that the newborns can't make it over the sandbar. While the girls pull together to make an elaborate magical escape plan for the turtles, Tank casually walks over and shows the turtles the way around the sandbar.

Unsolved Selfie Mysteries

The girls take a selfie at the beach, but in the background notice something mysteriously “loch ness shaped” in the background. TS goes into full detective mode and FS leads a scuba investigation under water only to realize the mysterious figure is a shadow cast from PP’s flamingo floaty. ...Or is it?

Summer love

Once upon a beach, there was an independent bachelor pup named Spike, who felt like something might be missing from his life but he didn’t know what... until a special little cocker spaniel caught his eye. But Spike has one little problem - he can’t speak cocker spaniel, and FS is left playing the Cyrano de Bergerac to Spike’s love story.

Bump Set Spike

What could be more fun than a boys vs girls volleyball match! Or so TS and RD thought. They struggle to get everyone playing in sync until things hit a boiling point and the ball flies towards a terrified Rarity who smacks it away with all her might and actually scores. This triggers TS and RD to do the math and rearrange the girls on the court so they only have to react instinctively to play a superb set. Girls: 1. Scary fast ball flying towards your face: 0

The Salty Sails!

Twilight has mapped out every coordinate, Rarity’s got her hat to keep the sun at bay, and PP’s bringing favorite her snacks. These girls are ready to go sailing... except for the part where wind is COMPLETELY UNPREDICATABLE AND HARD. The sails go wild, Rarity loses her hat, the snacks fall overboard. With their plans shattered, the girls learn to go with the flow err wind, and enjoy the ride. *Even Rarity who gets a wicked sunburn. This hooks up later.

Day in the Life

Last day of school

RD watches the clock, it’s the day that never ends. Twilight watches the clock, there just isn’t enough time! Split screen: We follow Rainbow Dash’s painfully slow day where everything just seems to get between her and freedom; Twilight is packing it full, touching every chalk board, shaking teacher’s hands. It escalates until they each make it to the front door about to step out. Twilight just can’t seem to go and then Rainbow Dash finally grabs Twilight out of her frame, and off they go!

Adoption Day

Rarity offers to help FS make a pet calendar and do cute outfits and a photoshoot for all the animals at the shelter. It starts off pretty cute but then the clothes start making less sense... you can’t even really see the bunny under the hat kind of way. But the shoot is such a success all the animals are adopted right then and there.

ALT

Outtakes – Fluttershy tries to overcome her shyness and make a commercial for the shelter. The short is comprised of the outtakes and then the actual 30second spot.

Drive in Horror –RD and Sunset Shimmer both terrified, trying to get through it / fronting. Reveal. PP and flash – hey, did you like it!?

Oh Sunny Day

It's a sunny day with one promising dark cloud in the distance. The girls all drag Sunset Shimmer outside for a "fun" day, but she just waits for rain drops to fall so she can finally get everyone in one room to play ... the new awesome VR console with additional 6 headsets just like she ordered. Finally, some real VR beach volleyball.

PP snack psychic

PP is working at the diner and we see her solve her costumers' problems by being to read their mood and know what happened based on their orders. "ooo, a pie day. I understand." Food Sherlock.

Friendship math

PP and TS take a friendship magazine quiz and get a horrible score! PP thinks it's funny, "we like each other, that's all that counts" but TS can't let it go and searches out the perfect friendship equation only to realize what PP was saying the whole time "we like each other, that's all that counts".

Back to School

The girls muse over how to spend their last day of Summer, and RD realizes that she's has been procrastinating on her summer bucket list. Before the girls even get out the door to start their last day, RD dashes out and we see her rapid fire bucket list: summer reading, berry picking, anything that might be fun if you actually went at it with a leisurely pace. Only to return wiped out. Last item on the list – nap.

Pink Like Me

Rarity has a really bad sunburn as it too afraid to go to the mall and be seen all blistery. PP tries to get Rarity out the door with all kinds of covers, wraps and plans to hide her burn until it finally sinks in that looking different isn't worth missing out on stuff. Besides, pink is a great!

Music Videos

Pinkie Pie: Bake with Your Heart – PP shows Twilight that baking isn't all chemistry, it's love. Musical Style references Nicki Minaj. Pop Rap.

Applejack: "5 to 9" AJ's friends realize that AJ is always working, but it's not as bad as they think. She get's going from 5am to 9am doing chores, waking up before the rooster to wake him up and then planning a hoedown. Line dancing chorus. *mentioned joke - All the work pays off, and she's pulled together a hoedown for her friends only to doze off. Musical reference: Dolly Parton

Twilight: What's under the hood - Twilight POV as she just wants to know why to everything, and along the way learns things she didn't think she could do. *mentioned example Like fix a beat up truck

Sunset Shimmer: Beautiful to me – Playing with the graphics and colors of graffiti, an abstract animated look into how Sunset Shimmer sees beauty where other see old. Finding the useful in the discarded. Themes: Beauty where you find it. Can't be easily dismissed.

Rarity: Make it look easy / Hard to look this good – Rarity sings about the work of putting it all together and appreciate the process. It's easy to say you can just do this, but there's more too it than that. Creator vs Critic theme. Also, the theme that it's ok for girls to be proud of what they do, and they don't have to be meek about it. Musical Style: Beyoncé

Fluttershy: More than what you see / A secret for you and me. In secret FS has an amazing Celine Dion, Mariah Carey level voice, but her video would follow her just belting it out in places where no one but her animals can hear. Car Karaoke, in the shower. The animals are her backup dancers. Theme: Just because you don't brag about it, doesn't mean it's not there.

Rainbow Dash – White Stripes, Rock. Running for the rush *needs more thought
