Wake-Up Shake-Up

The hardest thing about waking up on Day 2 of the festival is... waking up on Day 2 of the festival. Especially for Sci Twi, whose usual bedtime is 8:07 (right after the local news' tech-watch segment). Her friends have different ideas on how to get up and stay up: animal-yoga with Fluttershy, heart-pounding exercise with Rainbow Dash, or Pinkie Pie's energy-packed breakfast cupcakes (just watch out for the crash).

Lost Pet

A pop star's internet-famous pet gets lost at the festival, and now it's up to one of our gang to help track down its owner (Sci Twi), introduce it to living amongst its own kind in the natural world (Fluttershy), or... fall in love with it (Spike).

Inclimate Leather

Rain and the inevitable festival mud threaten to ruin Rarity's outfit—and by extension, entire weekend—unless one of her friends can find a silver lining in those dark clouds. She could turn to Applejack (she's dealt with plenty of mud back on the farm), Sci Twi (for the latest in self-driving umbrella technology), or Vignette (start a new trend: #RainHairDontCare).

The Last Drop

DJ-PON3 is ready to blow the roof off this festival and unveil her newest song... just as soon as she finishes it! (...all she's got is the rising tension before the drop, getting tenser, and tenser, and then... nothing.) Luckily our girls are on-hand to offer inspiration and collab-power, whether it's Applejack's electro-rodeo, Fluttershy's performing animals (as a way to thank her for the Dazzled audition), or Sunset Shimmer's video game-inspired 8-bit rocker.
