Accountibili-buddy

When Bulk Biceps accidentally steps on Applejack's toe (he's dancing like nobody's watching), Applejack needs to take a break from the packed crowds and go hang out as far from the stage as possible. She tells her friends stay, but the gang says "No way!" Applejack is surprised and touched that they insist on at least one of them keeping her company, even though it means they'd be giving up their stage-front spot! Applejack chooses between Rainbow Dash (who'll do her best soccer coach impression to heal AJ fast: "Walk it off!"), Pinkie Pie (who'll use the opportunity to hit up EVERY SINGLE FOOD TRUCK!) or Sunset (who gets empathy-flashes from various employees until she learns about a secret spot with a perfect view!).

Triple Trouble

Sci Twi is THE MOST PROUD of her algorithmically-generated show schedule-- with multiple bands playing at the same time this year, she'll always know exactly who to see. Unless of course she accidentally triple-books herself... which she DOES! She now faces the difficult and not-data-driven choice of picking which friend to follow to see their favorite band: Pinkie Pie (who takes her to a sugar-overloaded K-Pop-style funfest), Rainbow Dash (Speed Guitar duel), or Fluttershy (Hardcore Deathmetal... which she attends in full make-up/costume: "What? Vignette got me into them."). In each case, she ends discovering something new to love!
