MY LITTLE PONY EQUESTRIA GIRLS

"Friendship Games"

EG 1 & 2 RECAP

SC. 1 - EXT. CANTERLOT HIGH - STEPS - DAY

Sunset Shimmer writes in her journal on the steps of Canterlot High.

1 SUNSET SHIMMER (V.O.)
Dear Twilight, how are things in Equestria? Things at Canterlot High are pretty normal. Which to be honest, is a welcome change. It seems like it's been nothing but crazy magical excitement ever since I snuck through the magic mirror to Equestria to steal your Element of Harmony crown. I can't believe I was convinced that I could use the crown's magic to take control of the student body here at Canterlot High and turn them into an army of mind controlled teenagers! Unfortunately (or I guess fortunately) for me, you followed me. I'm still amazed that even transformed into a human in a strange new world with no magic, you were able to make friends with girls just like your pony friends back home, win over the student body I had bullied into submission and managed to beat me to become 'Princess of the Fall Formal!' (you really are the Princess everyone says you are). Even when the magic in your crown turned me into a powerful demon, you wouldn't back down. It was only after I saw the true magic of friendship you and your new friends possessed that I realized the error of my ways.

I'm so sorry. I didn't know.

3 SUNSET SHIMMER (V.O.)
And all of the magical activity we started didn't go unnoticed.

SUNSET SHIMMER (V.O.) (CONT'D)

You and I both know our magical history, but how could we know that Starswirl the Bearded had banished the evil SIRENS to this world long ago? I guess he thought with no Equestrian magic they wouldn't be a threat to anyone. We sure messed that up. As soon as they sensed the magic we released at Canterlot High they showed up as "new students." I knew right away there was something strange about them. And when almost everyone in the school started turning on each other, the girls and I knew we were going to need your help. Of COURSE you figured out a way to return through the portal! You wouldn't let anything stand in the way of helping your friends. But magic works differently here than it does in Equestria. We couldn't defeat the Sirens the same way you and your friends stopped me. To defeat a musical threat like the Sirens, we needed a musical counter-spell. I wish you had told us how worried you were about solving it. We all just assumed you would be able to whip one together! The Sirens almost managed to tear our friendship apart and use our magic against us. But fortunately the friendship you and your friends have is too strong to break. And, well, I guess I've learned a lot from you girls, because I finally found my voice and stood next to you, fighting the Sirens with our song of friendship and acceptance! Which brings us to today. Thankfully no more villainous plots to take over Canterlot High have popped up. Although there IS still a good bit of magic around the school. I've been conducting some experiments to figure out why it works differently here than it does in Equestria, but so far the results are inconclusive. It would be great to talk through some of my findings with you.

Everyone over here is focused on these upcoming 'Friendship Games' and they aren't as familiar with Equestrian magic as you and I are anyway. I'm sure you're busy with all kinds of things in Equestria, but I could really use another unicorn to talk things through with. Looking forward to hearing from you soon! Your friend, Sunset Shimmer.
