

phoebe

Phoebe is a tweeny-bopper girly girl who loves boys, shopping and most importantly, herself. At the age of three, she appeared in a stony brook farm commercial and hasn't gotten work since. Those few seconds of fame were all Phoebe needed to feel like a celebrity. She is conceited and generally lies about how important and famous she is to her friends in Uncookedland. Her owners are animal casting agents to the stars. Even though they ignore her because she can't land a role, the animals in Uncookedland look to her as their very own celebrity. As a result she acts like a big shot and way more important than she should.

PHOEBE SIDES

1. Phoebe

(trying to get past the rope line at Uncookedland's hottest club, Club Zesty)

I don't wait in lines, I'm famous. Well I know famous people. OK, maybe I've just read about them a lot. Okay maybe I can't read.

2. Phoebe

(asking Franklin to the dance...you probably got that)

Hey Franklin, would you go to the dance with me? Like I need to ask. I mean, I'm asking but whatevs.

3. Phoebe

(confronting Franklin, after finding out he brought two other dates to the dance besides her)

How could you do this to me Franklin? My heart will never mend. Now I'll never get married and my controversial celebrity wedding will never be televised on TMZ.

4. Phoebe

(explaining to Franklin about why they all come to Uncookedland)

I know you're new to Uncookedland so let me break it down for you. Like sometimes our owners are just like clueless. That's why we come here to do what we wanna do.

5. Phoebe

(desperately trying to impress Gurdy...again)

Did I tell you I was in a yogurt commercial? I did? Well let me tell you about it again.
