

WORM

Worm is the evil lord of Uncookedland, or so he thinks. Really he is just an insecure worm who has a penchant for building super complicated gadgets and making devious plans. Uncookedland was his land before the pets got there and he spends his days trying to destroy them. But the real reason he is so mad at the pets is because they never ask him to hang out. He doesn't understand this because in his mind, he's a pretty cool guy.

WORM SIDES

1. Worm

(Plotting Rock, after spying on the Uncooked gang, and finding out that they're having a dance and he's not invited)

I can't believe it, first those lousy pets move into my forest and now they don't even invite me to their stupid dance. Like I'd go anyway...I mean I would if someone asked me...but whatever I wouldn't go...I'd probably go.

2. Worm

(revealing his evil plan to Rock)

We plant a giant spring under the dance floor. When all the pets gather up to dance, I hit a button and blamo! All the animals are shot to the moon!

3. Worm

(talking to Rock on a walkie-talkie, who he has just shot to the Moon)

Just hang out. I need to get hot for the big dance. I'll show those lame pets who's the real party master, then shoot them into space. Talk to you later, bye.

4. Worm

(after getting hairspray shot in his eye by a robot arm)

In my eyes! It's in my eyes! It burns so much!

5. Worm

(arriving at the deserted dance area and realizing he missed it all)

No! I missed the dance. It's not fair.
